

Safe search information for you and your children.

In response to recent enquiries about helping your children search the internet safely and how to use parental controls here are some useful website links.

And remember about using and setting safe search engines in your internet browser-a favourite one is www.swiggle.co.uk and www.kidzsearch.com is another good one. You can also type 4kids at the end of the text in the search bar and this will usually help you to find websites and information that is at the correct level for your child to read.
