

Back To School Magazine, a new digital magazine aimed at parents and carers of primary school children, has just been launched this term. Why don't you take a quick look? It is full of useful information from improving pupil progress to healthy eating and nutrition. There is a very useful and informative article looking at phonics teaching and another on managing friendships.

There is no commitment, it is completely free (and always will be!).

Simply click on this link to sneak a peek: <http://bit.ly/VQ0KW4>